The course is so interesting and I'm really enjoying meeting people from different backgrounds that I might not have met otherwise. It's enabled me to gain a different outlook. Because of the nature of the course, we're all very open with each other which is a great way to be – it helps you to understand people better.

The tutors are all so knowledgeable and helpful, in fact everyone I've come across has been like that and I feel like everyone will help find a solution to any problem you might have.
